It is almost two years to the day (6th April, 1977) when Bolton Wanderers last visited the City Ground for the start of what turned out to be a hectic finish to the season.

We won 3-1 but then took only one point out of the next six and our promotion hopes had gone up in smoke or so it seemed. Fortunately for us Bolton found the pressure too great and suffered first degree burns but had enough character to renew the challenge and clinch promotion last season.

It has been a bit of a struggle for them this term but, thanks to a few good results recently, are keeping their heads above water. For us, however, it has been one long success story with excitement round every corner.

Last year I didn't know whether to feel envious or sorry for Peter Robinson, the Liverpool secretary, because of his club's commitments in Europe coinciding with the League Cup Final. Little did I realise at that time that I would be in precisely the same position within twelve months and I am still not sure how I feel.

I know how drained I feel after each big game with all the ticket problems and then I realise there is another one coming up. League Cup Final on Saturday, in Zurich on Wednesday, and stay over for the semi-final draw. Back for Coventry on Saturday, etc., etc., and if I feel exhausted I wonder how the players feel?

The trip to Zurich ended up like all good fairy tales should do with a happy ending, but it was not all plain sailing. The "Hoppers" came at us for an early goal as was expected and we seemed to have ridden the storm when, on the half-hour, the referee pointed to the penalty spot for an alleged push by Viv Anderson.

That rocked us back, but a beautifully worked goal saw us back in the driving seat and that is how the match ended. The Swiss lads produced some fine individual performances with Ponte outstanding. The Hermann brothers also caught the eye with Hans a dangerous "No. 11" and Heinz, their "No. 3", displaying 57 varieties of souped-up tackles from behind, front, and sideways.

The support we received from our travelling fans was tremendous. Thank you all for helping to make us feel at home. You did the club proud with no reports of misbehaviour.

I know that when the draw was announced the Zurich officials were very apprehensive for their safety knowing the reputation that certain British clubs followers had gained.

As it turned out their fears proved groundless and, to their credit, the players and officials of this homely club took their aggregate defeat like true sportsmen—unlike the A.E.K. Athens party that quickly vanished from the scene after the game.

What a nice little stadium it was after that big cold concrete affair in Greece. They have an intimate members tea room under the stand that served coffee and delicious cakes—more like a local cricket club than a European Cup ground.

John O'Hare had to trot down the corridor and collect a pot of tea at half-time for the lads. We were royally entertained, indeed almost smothered with hospitality, and the hand-carved pewter tankard which they presented to us will remind us of a very warm and friendly club.

No doubt those of you who made the journey will still be trying to convince your friends of the enormous prices charged in Switzerland. I never saw a tie under £10 and a 5,000-piece jigsaw puzzle cost £15.

A friend of Nottingham Forest, Rene Hahn, who is a member of the Grasshopper club and now lives in London was a tremendous help and made our stay very enjoyable. Rene has arranged tours for us in the past and I for one was sorry that it was his club that was beaten.

Now we have been drawn to play I.F.C. Cologne, the crack German side, who beat Glasgow Rangers in the previous round. Many would have liked to have seen this as the final but if we are going to win the trophy we have to beat them all and it must be marginally easier to do so on a home and away basis than on a neutral ground in Germany.

Last Tuesday the chairman and I attended a meeting in London arranged by the Football Association to discuss or at least listen to the various manufacturers of ground protection schemes. They varied from undersoil heating by means of electric cable, hot water pipes, and hot air pipes. Tent types presented were the polythene sheeting used by Leicester City and a new conception being installed at Villa Park.

One of the problems facing clubs who have to make decisions is that there are so few schemes actually installed that it almost means investing in a theoretical scheme not knowing whether they actually work. A lot of valuable information was made known and it will be that much easier to make a rational assessment at the end of the day.

Those who braved the storms on Wednesday night will no doubt have been more than satisfied with the entertainment provided when we blasted Chelsea into submission with six brilliantly conceived goals which included Martin O'Neill's first-ever hat-trick.

For a change Garry Birtles had to take a back seat when it came to applying the finishing touches. Tony Woodcock continued in his recent magnificent form and his two goals were a just reward for his fine performance.

Our youth team came back from the dead at Millwall when they pulled back a 3-1 deficit to equalise a few minutes from time and so earn a replay in this F.A. Youth Cup quarter-final tie.

Should we beat Millwall we will play either Coventry City or Everton on a two-legged basis, the first match being away.

The hooligan element of East London's dockland area don't apparently confine their antics to first team games and smashed two of the windows of our new 'bus and inflicted various dents and scrapes on it. These have now been repaired.

All About the 'Trotters'

After their agonisingly close misses in 1976 and 1977 — when missing promotion by just one point on both occasions — Bolton Wanderers finally regained a First Division place at the end of last season. They did so in fine style when occupying the champions berth with a total of 58 points.

The "Trotters" home record was superb with 36 points being gained from a possible 42, and Burnley were the only team to depart from Burnden Park with both points. Wanderers suffered seven defeats away from home, but did well enough to ensure they pipped Southampton to the title.

Since rejoining the top flight manager Ian Greaves has reinforced his squad with the signing of the precocious Neil McNab from 'Spurs for a hefty fee. The Scottish youngster has certainly added variety to the side but has made it more difficult for highly-rated striker Neil Whatmore to regain a place—a position he does not relish.

The Lancashire club have settled in this higher grade of soccer quite comfortably after a 14-year absence although, just recently, they have found themselves sliding towards the relegation zone. Currently in 17th position the "Trotters" do however possess the advantage of games in hand over some of their fellow strugglers.

Despite possessing an acceptable home record (19 points from 14 matches) our visitors are struggling to make an impact when leaving their own enclosure. They have only gained one away victory — against Queens Park Rangers—in 18 league and cup excursions this campaign.

Only once have they kept a clean sheet whilst travelling (versus Norwich City) and no fewer than 43 goals have been rattled into their net . . . an average of some 2.39 goals per game.

Even though the "Trotters" haven't exactly performed wonders since their return to the top flight the Burnden Park crowds usually top the 20,000 mark although attendances did drop below that figure for the visits of Norwich City and Chelsea.

It is a situation that cannot be pleasing Ian Greaves, especially when he has highly-rated defenders Paul Jones, Sam Allardyce, and Mike Walsh on his playing staff.

AN ILLUSTRIOUS PAST

Despite their current mediocre standing the "Trotters" are one of the more illustrious clubs in Great Britain. They are one of the Football League's original members and have never descended into the murky depths of Division Four. Indeed they have only endured one spell in the Third Division, and that lasted for just two years.

Bolton have never been First Division champions — their highest placing is third in 1892, 1921, and 1925—but they are one of the more successful teams in the history of the F.A. Cup. They have contested no fewer than seven finals and been victorious in four of them but haven't actually graced Wembley since 1958. On that occasion they overcame Manchester United 2-0 with the legendary Nat Lofthouse netting both goals.

Unfortunately our visitors proud tradition in this tournament did little to help them in the current season when Bristol City eliminated them 3-1 at the very first hurdle.

They fared little better in the Football League Cup. They defeated Chelsea 2-1 at Burnden Park, but were then eliminated by Third Division Exeter City at St. James' Park. Their most successful run in this particular competition was achieved two years ago when Everton eventually overcame them in the semi-finals.

Ian Greaves' men have gained only one point from us in our last three meetings. They achieved that in the 1976 Boxing Day promotion clash at their enclosure when Neil Whatmore equalised Peter Withe's goal. We emerged as 3-1 winners in the return clash at the City Ground three months later, and followed it up with a 1-0 victory in Lancashire earlier this campaign.

PLAYERS PROFILE

JIM McDONAGH (goalkeeper). He's been firmly established as Wanderers first choice custodian for some two-and-a-half years now following his signing from Rotherham United for a bargain fee. Indeed McDonagh has been so impressive that he has yet to miss playing a league game for the "Trotters".

PETER NICHOLSON (defender). A versatile performer from Cleator Moor who began his professional days with Blackpool prior to joining our visitors some seven years ago. Nicholson has proved to be a bargain acquisition and has completed almost 250 league matches for the Lancashire club.

TONY DUNNE (defender). Despite nearing the veteran stage of his career he's still a regular choice in the Bolton side. During his best days with Manchester United — when he was a member of their European Cup-winning side—Dunne was one of the outstanding full-backs in the Football League. He has won 32 international caps for Eire.

PAUL JONES (defender). A one-club man from Ellesmere Port who has long been considered a top-class centre-half. Jones has previously been a member of England's international squad although he's not actually been selected for the team. A useful goalscorer—he's netted 33 of them for Wanderers in almost 290 outings.

MIKE WALSH (defender). Born in Manchester, he's been on the Burnden Park playing staff since leaving school. Walsh was given his league baptism against us (as substitute) four years ago but didn't win a regular place in the side until last campaign. He can also operate in a midfield role.

SAM ALLARDYCE (defender). Despite currently being out of our visitors team he is a highly-rated performer. Allardyce has been at Burnden Park since leaving school and received his senior baptism some five years ago. He was absent from just one league game last campaign.

PETER REID (midfield). Injured at the start of this year and has not fully recovered yet. Reid is one of the most promising young midfielders in the country and has gained England Under-21 honours—indeed he even skippered the side—whilst completing more than 150 outings for the "Trotters".

ROY GREAVES (midfield). He's another one-club man who has provided Bolton with superb service which includes 64 goals in approximately 450 league outings. Greaves, who has rarely missed a match during the past four years, has been appointed as the "Trotters" skipper in addition to receiving a testimonial.

DAVID BURKE (midfield). A youngster from Liverpool who has forced himself into Wanderers line-up this campaign. Burke is a more than promising youngster and received his senior debut in the League Cup victory over Chelsea. He can also perform in a full-back role.

NEIL McNAB (midfield). Born in Greenock, he had barely commenced his league career with Morton before 'Spurs paid a hefty fee for him as an outstanding teenage prospect. McNab was an ever-present member of the Londoners promotion-winning side last term but lost his place following Ardiles' arrival. Became Bolton's record signing six months ago.

FRANK WORTHINGTON (forward). Another very talented player, Worthington cost the "Trotters" £90,000 from Leicester City in October, 1977 in a deal that has since been described as an all-time

ALAN GOWLING (forward). He cost Wanderers £120,000 — their then record fee — when moving from Newcastle United twelve months ago. Gowling has claimed 115 league goals in a career that has also included spells with Manchester United and Huddersfield Town. Completed his 300th league game earlier this term.

NEIL WHATMORE (forward). Finished as Bolton's leading scorer during the past two seasons (with 25 and 19 goals) but has recently been out of their side. Whatmore also comes from Ellesmere Port and is another one club-man with nearly 200 league matches to his credit.

BRIAN SMITH (winger). A skilful young player who received his senior debut against York City in October, 1974. Smith, who was born in Bolton, has never as yet established an automatic place in Wanderers line-up. Has had a loan period with Bradford City and spent last summer in American soccer.

WILLIE MORGAN (winger). Another former Manchester United star who is giving our opponents fine service after being signed on a shrewd free transfer from Burnley. Morgan is an exceptionally fine dribbler of the ball and has 21 Scottish caps to his name. Commenced his career with Burnley before joining the "Red Devils" for £135,000.

Garry Birtles pounces, following Chris Nicholl's slight hesitation, to hammer a tremendous left-foot shot high into our opponents net for the equalising goal. One or two happy faces are evident on the hallowed Wembley turf after this piece of opportunism.

After shrugging off Chris Nicholl's hefty challenge, Garry calmly steers the ball past Gennoe to provide us with the lead—and more celebrations are under way.

Tony Woodcock lashes home Archie's astute pass for our third goal—and promptly leads a sprint back to the half-way line with Terry Gennoe wondering just what's hit him.

The last photograph shows the agonisingly close miss immediately after half-time when the ball decides to roll the wrong side of the post following a melee involving Archie Gemmill, Terry Gennoe, and Alan Ball.

Nick Holmes, fortunately for "Saints", comes to the last-minute rescue of Terry Gennoe after an innocuous looking Garry Birtles cross had somehow evaded the 'keeper and tantalisingly rolled along the goalline.

Ivan Golac is shattered, "Robbo" hesitant, and Garry elated . . . but referee Reeves ends all those emotions by disallowing the "goal".

After neatly sidestepping Terry Gennoe, Garry once again discovers his effort is disallowed because of a marginal offside decision.

SUPPORT OUR YOUNGSTERS!

Next Thursday evening, 5th April, our youth side entertain Millwall in a replayed F.A. Youth Cup 4th Round game. It kicks-off at 7 p.m. incidentally, and if we are successful it will be the first time we have won our way to the semi-finals of this competition.

The first clash ended in a 3-3 draw at The Den five days ago and our scorers were Steve Burke, Gary Mills, and Geoff Lilley.

More consideration

I THINK that more consideration should be given to supporters who travel from out of the area.

If the match is in doubt local people block the Information Desk lines, people who could listen to Radio Nottingham or Radio Trent. People out of the area are left unable to find out if the match is on or not.

Cup-tie tickets for Arsenal would have got when visiting a league match but with the match off, and your refusal to accept any 'phone calls, meant I did not get my usual tickets.

As a regular supporter since 1946, in our less successful days, a 'phone call was accepted and I collected my tickets on the day of the match. I know the problem of bogus calls, but regulars such as myself are known to you, or were when we used to cheer if we got the ball out of our half of the field. Today we are treated less than those locals who stayed away during less successful days.

I am a Nottingham Forest fanatic, one of those 8,000 who saw the "Reds" beat Bury 1-0 and go down to Division Three due to a late Cardiff equaliser against Leicester City.

I travel 108 miles to each home game, not to mention away games to Newcastle and Carlisle in the past, and I don't think it fair for you to insist I travel 108 miles just to collect Cup-tie tickets.

I also object to the way Nottingham is being dropped from programmes, rosettes, etc. As a supporter, living in Boston for the last 15 years, two things are dear to me, Forest and Nottingham. May the two always go together and the name Nottingham Forest live forever.

I may point out that Forest F.C. disbanded and became Wanderers

F.C., moreover they were a Southern team.

When the manager complains about the size of crowds just remember how difficult it is for us travellers to even get tickets.

JOHN C. WRIGHT

"Braystones", Robin Hoods Walk
Boston, Lincolnshire

P.S.—I believe the club is bigger than anyone including Mr. Clough. Men come and go and so do players but the club and Nottingham Forest will live forever in my eyes.

"Primitive" accommodation

AS a visitor to your ground as an Aston Villa supporter, I was interested to read in your programme the letter from a Forest supporter (Mrs. Iris Cox) complaining about a number of things in the East Stand.

I must agree with her because I and my party were shocked to find the primitive accommodation provided in the East Stand for £2.50 per seat — as Mrs. Cox says "a marked-out piece of plank".

If you wish to encourage more spectators to come to enjoy the undoubted skills both of your players and most of the visiting teams you really must improve the accommodation to bring it to the level of that across the park in the Main Stand — where incidentally I have sat previously.

I agree it is a "chicken and egg" situation — which comes first, the accommodation or the spectators. I think accommodation must be the first priority, the spectators will follow providing the team's success continues.

You may like to take a leaf out of Villa's book and come and see what we are offered at home matches.

A complete day

AS a long time Forest supporter, the trip to Wembley two weeks ago was one of the greatest occasions of my life but my day was made complete when Mr. Clough stated in a television interview that Frank Clark was his "Man of the Match".

For many months now I have maintained that Frank's contribution to the game has been a significant factor in Forest's success but, in a team of super stars, his quiet, efficient style of play has never received the credit it deserves from the fans.

I, and many others I am sure, would like to thank Mr. Clough for honouring this fine player.

Our supporters praised

WE felt we should write to you to say that your supporters have restored our faith in soccer supporters.

On arriving at Wembley we decided to avoid the crowds and have a drink in safety outside the district, choosing a pub called "The Preston". On entering the public bar we found it full of Forest fans.

Apprehensively we decided to risk a drink hoping not to get thumped. We need not have worried. We were welcomed and a good time was had by all.

On leaving, it was handshakes and good wishes all round, the way it used to be.

These fans were a credit to your club. A nicer bunch of fans would be hard to find.

Statistics

I NOTE with interest an article under "Club Scene" in the "Review" v. Aston Villa. Under the headline "Busier than ever" it quotes Forest as having played 67 games during last season. I have kept a record however, over recent years and I make last year's total to be 70. The breakdown being as follows:

	P	W	D	L	F	A	Pts.
League ...	42	25	14	3	69	24	64
League Cup	8	7	1	0	24	5	15
F.A. Cup ...	6	3	2	1	11	7	8
Friendlies ...	7	7	0	0	28	5	14
Testimonials	6	4	2	0	13	5	10
County Cup	1	0	1	0	1	1	1
Overall ...	70	46	20	4	146	47	112

Although I am a season ticket holder and a member of the Supporters' Club (Long Eaton Branch), I am at university in Manchester. Hence it is not possible to get to every match and so all the details are often difficult to obtain. I would be most grateful therefore if you could tell me the scorers in the following testimonials: 17.10.77 v. Sheffield United XI (J. Harris) and 4.9.78 v. Mansfield Town XI (Sandy Pate).

My friends here laugh when I say that I will be going home for the day to see Forest. Three times I've driven home over Saturday lunch after playing football for the university in the morning, but I consider it all worth it.

I thank all concerned with Forest for the many memorable moments which I have enjoyed and I am sure that there will be many more. I have managed to get to over 20 matches so far this season which takes a big slice of the student grant but it's worth every penny.

A 50,000 ground capacity ?

THE 1966/67 season, Forest were runners-up in the league and F.A. Cup semi-finalists. They attracted no less than nine attendances of over 40,000, the highest being 47,510 v. Everton (F.A. Cup). The season following, 1967/68, the ground record was set up, 49,946 v. Manchester United the league champions.

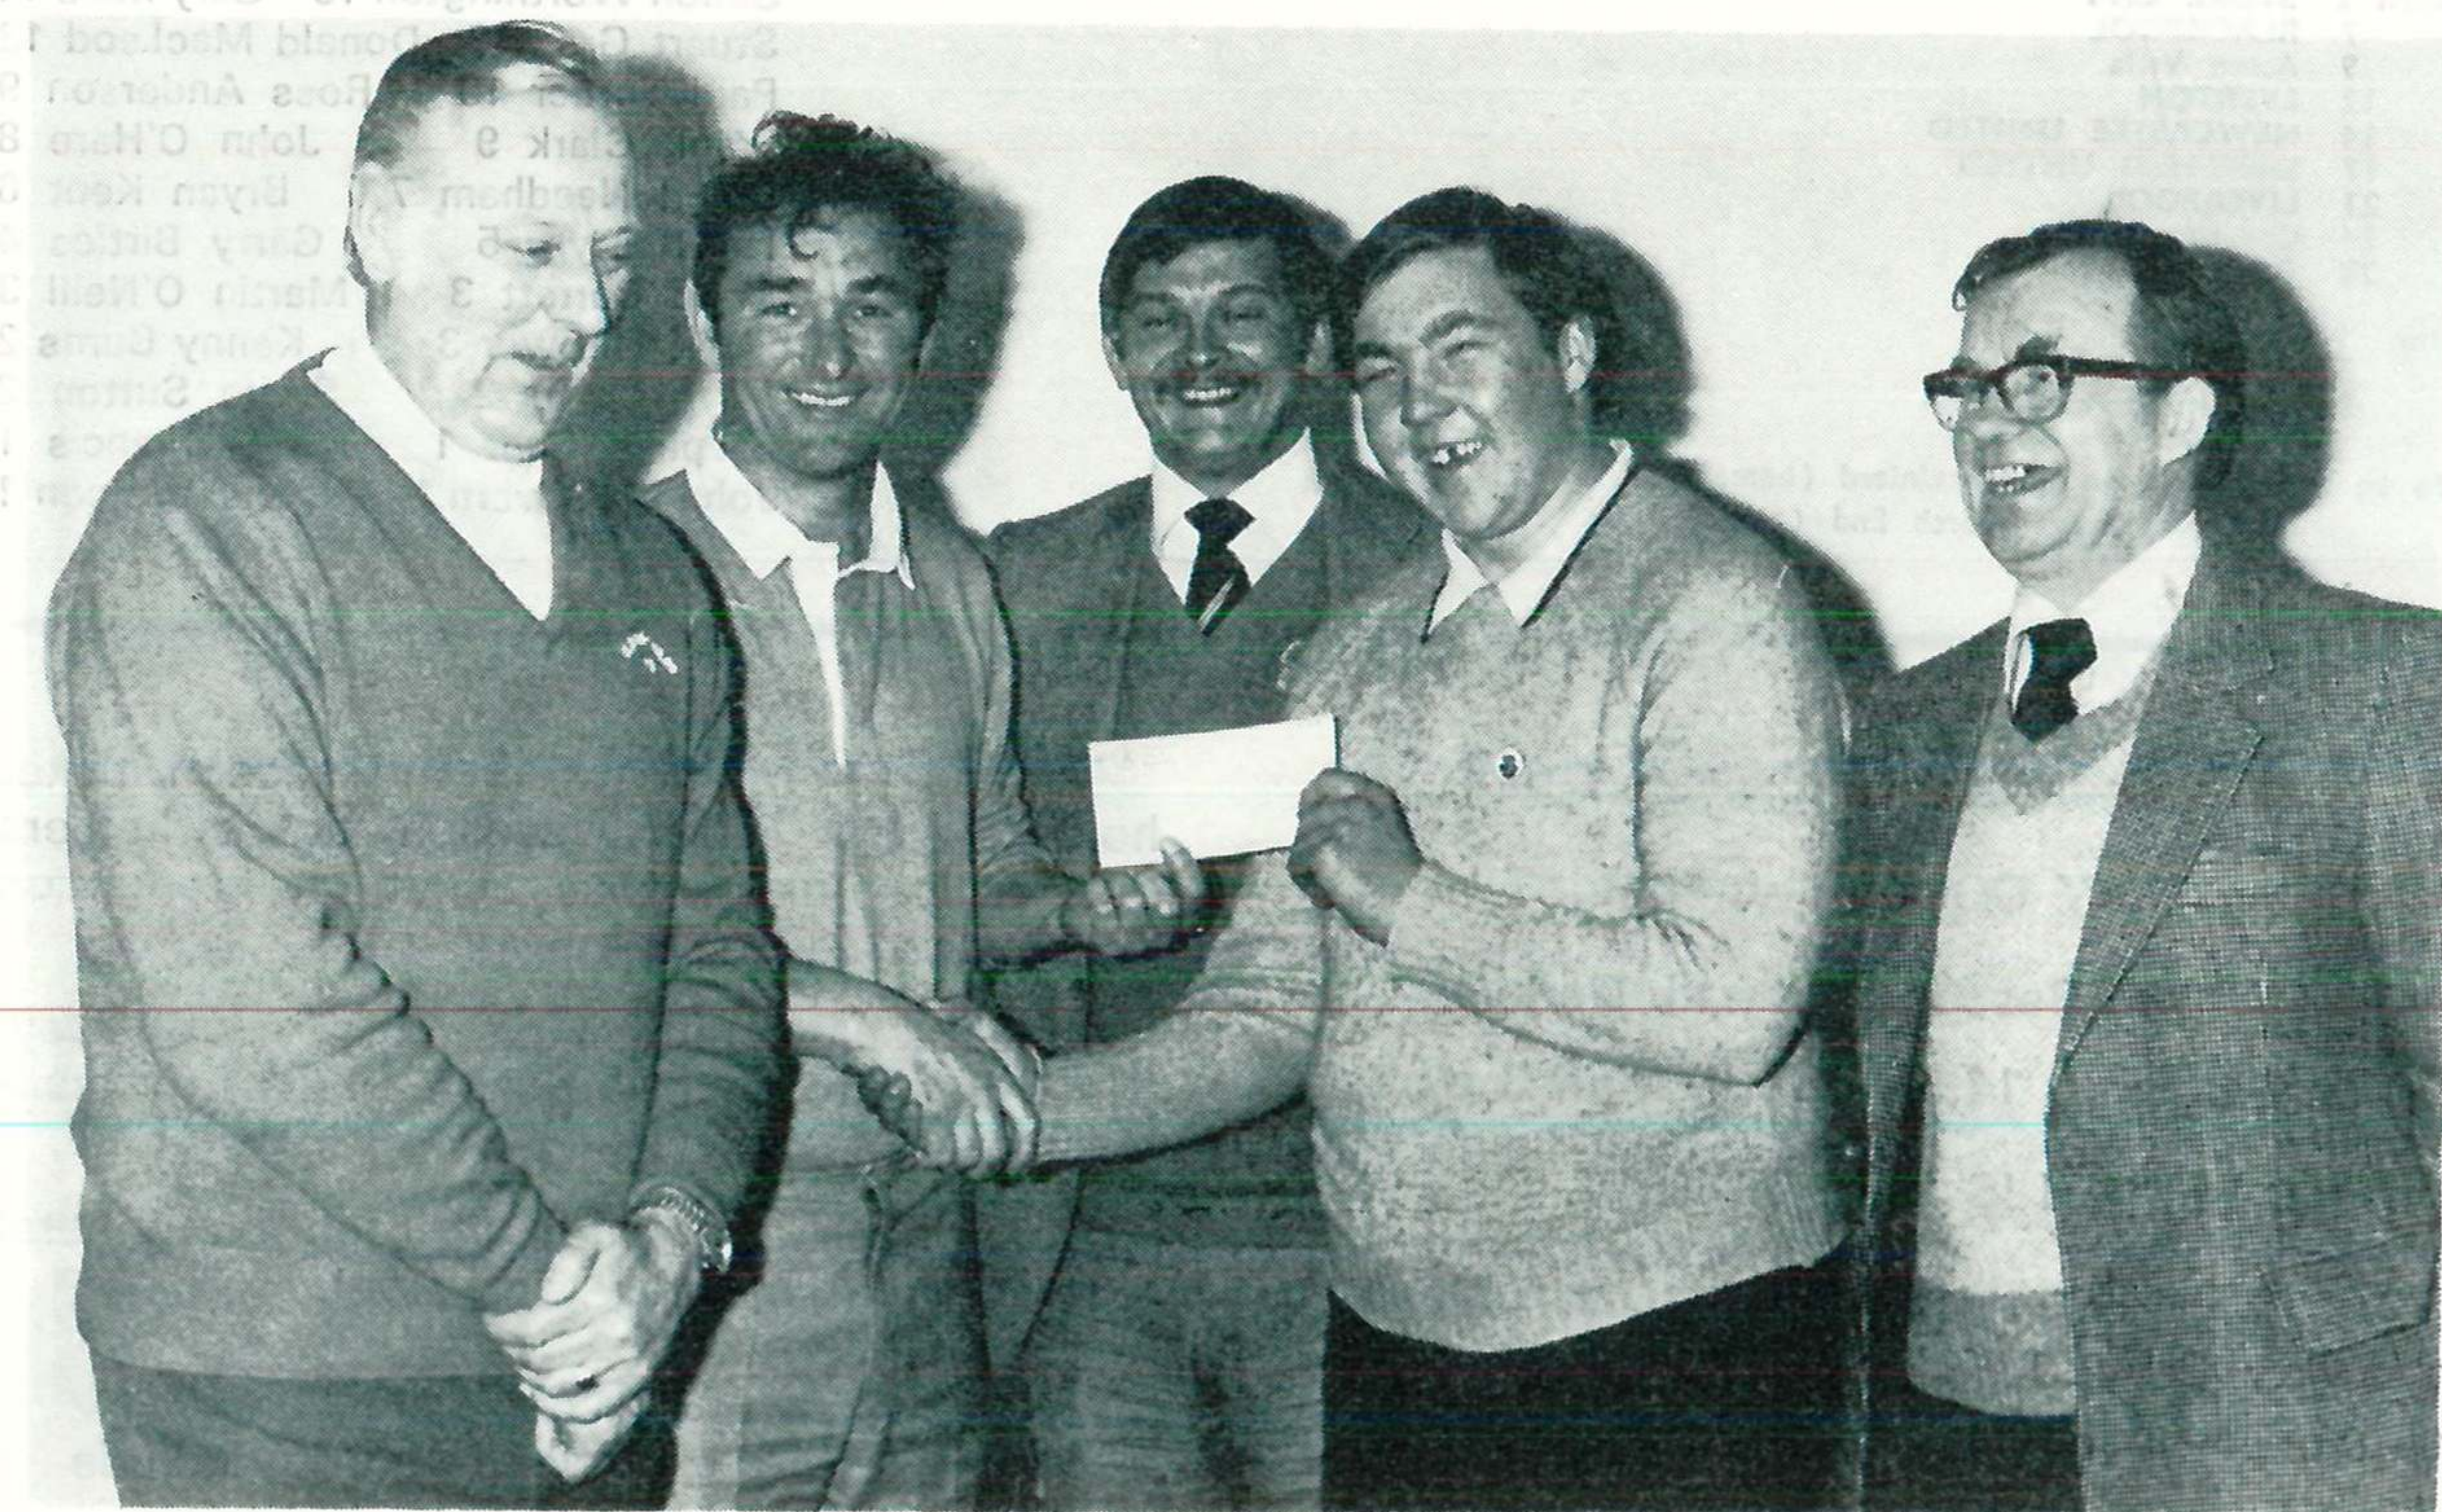

These crowds had built up over a period of ten years as a Division One team. We also won the F.A.

Cup in 1959. The relegation in 1971/72 season did enormous damage to the support of the club; we have not recovered fully since.

I do not see reducing the capacity of the ground as the answer to the missing fans. The new East Stand is needed, but not at the expense of the present ground capacity. I would like to see a 50,000 capacity stadium, including 20,000 seats in this figure, all parts of the ground under cover. Also fans not packed in like sardines and the introduction of stewards in the ground to make sure the fans move to the front of the terraces to make it easier for late comers to get into the ground.

Brian Clough has expressed a wish to see the City Ground become a place for family entertainment. However, if everyone of the 28,000 present regulars brought even a friend, the ground would not be able to accommodate them. 6,000 turned away is better than 24,000 present.
